

A World without Tears
Think of a world where the dead will have risen
From their silent tombs that have held them in prison
To live forever, to love and caress
Their loved ones and friends in true righteousness

Diane Brown was born on January 22, 1944 to the late Lenora McCary in Atlanta, Georgia. Diane was the eldest of 5 children, sisters Marilyn Turner and Linda Henderson preceded her in death.

As a young child her family relocated to Cleveland, Ohio where she met and married Marvin Brown on June 3rd, 1967. She made the truth her own and dedicated her life in water baptism at the age of 14 yrs old and became one of Jehovah's Witnesses.

She worked at University Hospitals of Cleveland for 25 yrs in the Medical records department before retiring, but her career was preaching the good news of the Kingdom with others, which she did fulltime, for 15 yrs as a regular pioneer. She even assisted a number of people to dedicate their lives to serve Jehovah. Diane spent many enjoyable hours sewing, cooking, traveling, even having the privilege of being invited to a few International Conventions.

She loved to sing and spend time with friends and family especially her only grand-baby Gabby. She is survived by her husband, Marvin. Her loving daughter, Marcia. Her brother, Kevin and her beloved grand-daughter, Gabrielle. She also leaves behind a host of nieces and nephews and over 8 million of spiritual brothers and sisters.
